

DIRT FARMERS URGED TO ATTEND TEMPLE MEETING

Detailed plans for the Nov. 1 hearing of the house agricultural committee in Temple began to take form Tuesday in a luncheon meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors and Brazos and agricultural committee-men with Rep. W. R. Poage.

Mr. Poage, a member of the house agricultural committee, stressed that the committee is anxious to hear from plain dirt farmers, men who actually farm the land.

"They can come in their overalls," he said. "We want to hear from the men who really do the farming."

Farm organizations and groups will not by any means be barred, he said, but most of them will submit their views in the form of prepared written briefs. No written briefs will be required, however, he emphasized.

The committee will arrive in Fort Worth from Kansas City the morning of Oct. 31. Leaving there by automobile in the early afternoon, the members will stop at farms along the way, reaching Temple around 5 p. m. The hearing will last most of the day Saturday, Nov. 1, and committee members will leave here before noon Sunday.

Local plans include a barbecue Friday night, a Mexican-style dinner Saturday night, an air trip over Central Texas in a pioneer airplane Sunday morning, and possibly other events.—Temple Telegram.

Texas-Oklahoma Games In Future Cancelled; Gambling Is Charged

The Texas University and the University of Oklahoma will not play football in 1948 nor for some years to come, it was said Tuesday.

The cancellation of the games, always played in Dallas, came about as a result of an uprising of Oklahoma fans over a decision in the game two weeks ago.

Oklahoma University officials were agreeable to playing the game on a home and home basis.

The incident referred to has been charged to gambling, an evil that has not only threatened college football but has touched high schools in every community, Cameron not excepted. Drinking and gambling at high school games keeps decent people away and if not curbed in Cameron and elsewhere football will soon be on the way out.

Enthusiastic Taylor fans made a break for the Cameron goal posts last night and succeeded in tearing down half of the structure before officers and school officials stopped them.

This is the first time in the relations with Taylor that any such attempt has been made. The Ducks lost a hard fought game 18 to 0.

WATER SYSTEM EXPANDS

NEW WATER MAINS AND PLUGS ARE INSTALLED

Recently completed improvements to the Cameron water system will provide increased water pressure and better fire protection in several local areas, according to L. W. Smith, local manager of Community Public Service Company.

The improvements, which included replacing of smaller pipe with six-inch mains and the installation of some new fire hydrants, are a part of an extended plan of the water company to increase water pressure and provide additional fire protection throughout the city.

To date, 1,400 feet of six inch cast iron pipe have been laid in the north part of town, in the vicinity of North Houston and North Travis Avenues, and three fire hydrants have been added in that area. In the south part of the city, 1,580 feet of 6-inch main have been laid and two fire hydrants added in the vicinity of South Travis and South College Avenues.

The work was done over a period of two months' with crews ranging from three to ten workmen, under the Serviceman Alvin Hefft of Community Public Service Company.

Leon Dam To Be Built Says US Engineer

The Miller Springs dam on the Leon river "will be built," Col. Henry Hutchings, Jr., division engineer of the U. S. army engineers, declared Monday to squelch "recurring talk that the Belton reservoir may be replaced by upstream reservoirs."

Colonel Hutchings made the statement in a report to the quarterly meeting of the Brazos district directors at Waco.

"To reassure all interested," he said, "it is stated that the Belton dam will be built, but since it appears necessary to afford some measure of flood protection to the valuable valley lands lying upstream from Belton reservoir, consideration is being given to supplementing Belton dam by a dam and reservoir at Proctor site on the Leon river near Comanche."

The Proctor site is nine miles northeast of Comanche.

Any dams built above Miller Springs would supplement that dam, not replace it, he stated.

Time and money already spent on projects authorized by congress but not yet constructed will not be tossed aside, Colonel Hutchings declared.

The Miller Springs dam has been authorized by congress, at an estimated cost of $15,500,000.

Under the authorization, Colonel Hutchings said, the army engineers' plans call for the allocation of 126,400 acre feet of storage capacity for construction. (turn to page six)

YOEMEN GOING TO KILLEEN

FORMAL CANVAS WILL BEGIN OCTOBER 27TH

The Cameron Community Chest quota has been set at $4000 this year, it was announced early Tuesday by Stanley Swift, Chairman and Director of the 1947 drive.

Formal canvas for funds will begin on Monday, October 27, he announced.

The Community Chest drive here is being made in unison with the canvas throughout the nation and the central theme is "Everybody Benefits, Everybody Gives."

On the Board of Directors are: Albert Collins, Stanley Swift, J. M. Bohner, Mrs. W. O. Triggs, Henry Siebman, Ralph Michalka, John C. Andres, George Childress, John Jeter, Homer McLane and Alvin Dusek.

Special gifts are being sought today as a preliminary to the full canvas to begin on Monday, Mr. Swift said.

Some of the important items in the budget this year are $600 for the girl scouts and $800 for the Boy Scouts. The Milk Fund has been allocated $400 and the principal item is $1800 for welfare. This includes, food, fuel and clothing.

Other expenditures as vital are in the budget also. The quota is regarded as low and the donors will not be called upon for any sacrificial giving.

Of especial importance is that when the quota to the Community chest is subscribed there will be no other authorized canvas for funds for charitable and community needs.

Many who are informed are loud in their praise of the character building features of the Community Chest over the nation, centering upon youth activities.

Jinx Tucker Noted Sports Writer Ill; Must Take A Rest

Jinx Tucker, hospitalized in a serious condition after a coronary occlusion suffered Monday night, was reported by his physicians to have improved somewhat Tuesday night and to be in "satisfactory" condition at Providence Hospital.

The famous sports writer was still suffering pain Tuesday night, said the physicians. Oxygen and sedatives had been administered to him during the day. The doctors said Tucker would in all probability have to remain in bed for several weeks and to slow down his pace of work which have been one of the most terrific of any sports writer in the nation.

During the current football season, Tucker had been writing his regular daily columns, "Hot Shots" for The Waco News-Tribune and "By Jinx" for The Waco Times-Herald. In addition, he had been writing an extra daily column of grid chatter, had been reporting at least two football games per week, writing daily stories about Waco High School's football team and the Baylor University eleven, doing several radio broadcasts per week, and putting in his regular five-day week at the Linotype machine.

TEAMS HAVE PLAYED TOTAL OF EIGHT GAMES

Some of the most disastrous defeats in the history of the Yoemen have occurred in the games with the Killeen Kangaroos.

Cameron has met Killeen 8 times in all. The Kangaroos did not come into the District until 1939 and that game was played in Cameron in late October. The Killeen team was making its first bid for a serious role in the conference play but was defeated 25 to 0.

The Yoemen are going to Killeen Friday night for their annual game. As the conference teams now stand Cameron and Killeen are tied, both having won two conference games. Cameron has defeated Georgetown and Taylor and Killeen has defeated Georgetown and Belton.

The Yoemen will be going up against a strong line Friday night plus the Killeen spirit which is always high. Cameron has a much better ball club but may not have the determination to win as strongly as the Kangaroos. This is said in the light of the record for the Kangaroos have been bitter foes and never lose lying down.

Coach Leo Buckley of Killeen has fielded some of the best teams in the history of the conference and indeed in the history of Central Texas football. Perhaps the greatest was the 1941 team when they were District Champions and also Bi-District and Regional Champions. That team had a line sparked by Carlisle, perhaps (turn to page six)

ROBBERS DRIVEN AWAY FROM ROSEBUD BANK

ATTEMPT IS MADE TO ROB ROSEBUD BANK

ROSEBUD, Oct. 20—A Rosebud operator was credited with frightening away two bank robbers from the Planters National Bank here early this morning after the thugs had slugged and tied City Nightwatchman Arnold Muldrow and entered the bank.

The operator, Mrs. W. H. Roberson, dimmed the lights in her office, directly across the street from the bank, after the robbers had knocked the knob from the door of the vault, but before they had gotten the door open. They fled without any loot.

The combination and other mechanism on the vault door were battered and damaged to the extent that bank officials could not open it this morning. A crowbar was left behind by the burglars.

The First National Bank of Rosebud loaned the Planters Bank funds

THE YOEMEN 18; TAYLOR 0

GAME HERE FEATURED
BY STOUT LINE PLAY

The Yoemen flashed brilliantly for two minutes in the opening period of the game Friday night against Taylor then spent the remaining time wasting a lot of power and spilling futile plays against a Duck wall that would not yield.

The score was Cameron 18, Taylor 0. No other team has been able to hold the Yoemen under for 4 downs on the one yard line but that is what happened here. During the fourth and final quarter the Ducks and the Yoemen played some 10 minutes on the 20 yard line in the Duck end of the field with neither side being able to make progress. It was just that kind of a ball game.

Notwithstanding the poor showing of the Yoemen, especially the backfield, the game had its big moments, one when Jimmy Hawk took a punt and raced 40 yards right through the Taylor team for a touch down. Jimmy was the star in the backfield for the night, gets better every game and is a constant threat.

The Yoemen are as good ball club Saturday as they were on Friday, the only thing to realize is that few teams have thrown up a better defense than did Taylor, so it wasn't so much poor showing after all, but just a bang up Duck defense with the line holding that score down to 2 touchdowns.

The Yoemen were picked to win by as much as 5 touchdowns. They were lucky to get those and Taylor never came near scoring on the Yoemen. The line men for Cameron were just as good and maybe a bit better than the Taylor line men. The fact, some 2500 of them saw a toe to toe battle from whistle to whistle.

Charles Riola who usually can kick through the eye of a needle had three chances last night and missed all of them. Cameron made 6 first downs and that was how good the Taylor line. Taylor made 4 first downs and that was how good the Cameron line.

The Yoemen rolled up 250 yards from scrimmage while Taylor could get only 67. Cameron tried 11 passes and completed 2. Taylor threw 11 and completed 2 and they were even on that score, except that Cameron completed one for a touchdown, Michaela to Joe Hawkins. Taylor was penalized 26 yards and Cameron was penalized 16.

1st Quarter

Co-Captains Fred Buzan and Buddy Wilkinson for the Ducks met Co-Captains O'Neill for the team which was won by Taylor. The Ducks elected to receive. Riola kicked off to Buzan who handled the ball badly and finally it spilled over into the end zone to come out on the 20. Buzan was smothered by Joe Hawkins as he tried to pass. The Ducks had to punt but Joe Hawkins went in and blocked George Schultz's punt and Duncan, the boy who always sparks the Cameron line, pounced on it and the ball belonged to Cameron. On the first play Michaela shot a 40 yard pass to Joe Hawkins that was no good, the ball spilling into the end zone. On the next play T. J. O'Neill ran 20 yards for a touchdown right through the Duck right tackle then out away and was touched only once. Riola missed the extra try. The score was 6 to 0 for the Yoemen. George Schultz ran the Cameron kickoff back to the 40 yard line, Buzan got 7 and 2 Jimmy O'Neill the Cameron centre, broke through and threw Schultz for a loss and Joe Hawkins broke through again to block Schultz's punt. Eugene Salach who makes a specialty of scooping up balls and running for a touchdown, raced away with it but the play was called back because Cameron was off sides. The score was lost and Taylor had a first down on the penalty. Duncan stopped Buzan for no gain and Taylor had to kick. Schultz lifted the ball to the Cameron 10 and Hawk failed to gain, Beale who was having trouble all night staying on his feet, got 5 yards and T. J. O'Neill made a first down. The ball was on the 22. Beale made 2 and Michaela raced around the Taylor left end for 4 yards and then Jimmy Hawk made it a first down. Beale got 6 and O'Neill a yard. Beale fell down again and Michaela had to kick. The ball went out on the Duck 25. The Taylor line play was very stout. Taylor fumbled and Michaela recovered for Cameron. Hawk got a yard, a pass to Hawkins was no good and O'Neill racked up 4 as the quarter ended.

2nd Quarter

The ball was on the Taylor 19 yard line. Beale ripped through for 10 yards. Michaela shot a pass for 9 yards to Joe Hawkins who caught it, fumbled and recovered it and it was counted a touchdown. Riola promptly failed to boot another one through. Score Cameron 12, Taylor 6. Riola kicked out on the Duck 22. Taylor drew a 5 yard penalty. Taylor was set back 5 more for an off-side and it was 1st and 20. Jimmy O'Neill and Bob Holloway alternated on some good defensive work and at third down it was Eugene Schultz again so the Ducks had to punt. The punt was partially blocked and rolled to the Duck 42. Richard Buzan came in and took the toss out in the first and raced around the Taylor right end for 30 yards. O'Neill failed to gain, losing 2 yards and then Michaela threw one far over the goal but Hawkins couldn't get it. Beale then tried a pass that was no good and the ball went over on the 20. A few seconds later Cameron had the ball again on a Duck fumble. It was on the 20. Taylor refused a penalty on Cameron for their line was holding. Five minutes to play and the ball on the 20. John Kaseley lost yards and Joe Hawkins took a pass for a first down on the 10. Kaseley fumbled and Taylor got the ball. That 10 yard line was the center of everything. George Riola, the Cameron left guard, came through with some brilliant defensive work and Taylor two plays later fumbled and Cameron recovered right on the Duck 20. Michaela lost 10 yards trying to pass. The Ducks were through and on him fast. Michaela lost 10 more yards as the Duck line men fished through. It was 1st and 20 to go. Now Howard Beale, carrying a passing rule passed one to Michaela for 15 yards and it was good. Michaela failed to gain and the ball was on the 15 as O'Neill failed and the ball went over. That was how good the Duck line. Taylor used a pass that was no good and Raymond Elmer who had snubbed into the backfield took a pass from Schultz for 9 yards as the half ended.

3rd Quarter

The quarter opened up with one of the longest punt returns in history of the Yoemen. Schultz kicked off and Hawk got the ball on the Cameron 20 and ran 80 yards through the entire Duck team for a touch down. It was a thriller and the Cameron flash looked very deliberate and cool in this scintillating run-back. Riola had his last chance of the evening. The ball hit an apright of the goal and shot off and was no good. The score was Cameron 18 and Taylor 6 and that was the end of scoring. Riola kicked off and the ball was on the Duck 25. Schultz lost 12 yards and when a pass failed he kicked. Salach got the punt, a poor one. Beale fell down again and O'Neill and Beale failed to make a first down. It was that tight with the Duck line doing a tremendous job. Cameron had to punt and Wilkinson and Schultz made a first down. George Riola threw Buzan for a six yard loss. Taylor had to kick. Walter Parnett went down fast on O'Neill and there was no return. Beale picked up 3 and Michaela on a false start moved around the Duck left end for 14 yards and first down. Beale fell down again and then got right up, brushed himself off and continued the center for 7 yards. Hawk came in as Taylor called time out. The Ducks were to hold the Yoemen for downs on the goal line. Hawk got 3 and Beale made it a first down. Beale got 3 and Buzan 1. It lacked inches. Beale made it and O'Neill made 5 as Taylor called time out and the quarter ended.

4th Quarter

Michaela lost a yard and Taylor drew a five yard penalty. The ball was on the 2 yard line. The Taylor line turned in a neat job. Beale was stopped and for no gain and the ball went over on downs. Schultz from 10 yards back of his goal line lifted a great 40 yard punt down the field where T. J. O'Neill fumbled slightly and the Taylor forwards pounced on him for a no return. Buddy Wilkinson, Taylor back, spilled Michaela for a 5 yard loss. Beale dropped back to pass but the pass was blocked by an alert Taylor line play. It was 3rd and 13 and Cameron called time out. A line play failed and the ball went over. Taylor then made her bid to score. Schultz took a pass for 20 yards and then got seven through the Cameron line. Mower Buzan was hurt and had to be carried from the field. Burke for Cameron went off limping. It was a rugged game. Taylor lost 5 yards on a penalty and Schultz was rushed badly on a delayed pass and fell out to the left flat from Michaela and raced the Taylor right end for 33 yards. Michaela failed with a pass to Hawkins. O'Neill lost 2 and Beale lost 2. A pass to Hawkins was no good and the ball went over on 4th down. Schultz made 11 yards and then tried to get away with passes to Schrader but they all failed. Taylor drew 15 yards for clipping. Schultz was spilt by Duncan and had to kick. Schultz punted to the Cameron 40 as the game ended.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

'Take Pen in Hand'

This column has been running for so long that its readers, in towns like ours all over the country, are beginning to "take pen in hand" and write us what they think.

Some of them take me over the coals for what I say—like the column I ran on planting alfalfa. Others write, "I liked your column yesterday, but..." All of them have different points of view.

From where I sit, that's the way it should be. Everybody's entitled to an opinion—and it's those very differences, and friendly criticism, that make for tolerance and better understanding—whether it's ideas on planting alfalfa or choosing between beer and cider.

The more folks air their differences right out in public, with a neighborly respect for the other person's liberties and point of view, the closer we are to the American principle of individual freedom—whether it's in a choice of crops or beverages.

We've Come a Long Way from the Longhorns

Longhorns by the millions ranging the western grasslands from the Gulf Coast to Montana... building empires... making history and legend on the great cattle trails! That was sixty and more years ago. Then the railroads came, much of the range was fenced and the fate of the longhorn was sealed. Short-horn, Angus and Hereford bulls came in from the east. Gradually, the longhorns were bred out of existence, until today only a few isolated "museum" herds are left.

This is one story of continuing livestock progress, of better animals developed to meet changing conditions and needs. Who knows but that in another fifty years today's "best" may look as old fashioned as longhorns do now.

With hops, one amazing change is in the increased speed and efficiency of producing pork. Three years once was needed to raise a hog to market weight. Today, pigs often weigh 200 to 250 pounds at six months or less. Straight line and cross-bred breeding experiments seek even more efficient hogs to make weight in the same short time, but produce more meat.

In lambs, development is directed toward "dual-purpose" breeds. Certain breeds have been best for wool but not best for meat. Others produced the meat but were lacking in wool. Researchers have made progress on breeds of lambs to produce both meat and good wool economically.

A first step in the improvement of any animals or any herd is to use proven sires on dams of known production ability. The eye alone is not enough. To know production records and ancestry is vital. Bull grading programs offer greater certainty in choosing a sire. Weighing young animals at weaning time and marking them is important, especially in the selection of gilts. A "touch system" of sheep grading is proving helpful in culling large bands in little time.

On any matter pertaining to livestock breeds or breeding, Swift & Company has no favorites. We serve the interests of producers of all breeds, in all parts of the country. We urge you to watch carefully your farm publications, and the bulletins of your state agricultural station, and the accomplishments of successful breeders for latest news about the kinds of livestock which you raise.

Martha Logan's Recipe for UPSIDE DOWN CHILI PIE

(Yields 6 servings)

1 pound ground beef
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 tablespoon shortening
1 cup cooked kidney beans
1/4 teaspoon chili powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce
1 cup cooked tomatoes
Sauté meat and onion in melted shortening. Add beans, seasonings, and tomatoes. Cover. Simmer gently about 15 minutes. Pour into a greased 9-inch pie plate. Top with corn bread batter. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees F.) for 20 minutes.

Corn bread

1/2 cup sifted flour
3/4 cup yellow corn meal
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
Mix and sift dry ingredients. Combine egg and milk. Add to flour mixture, stirring until well mixed. Stir in shortening. Pour over chili in pie plate.

Packers do not make livestock prices

In their day, the hardy, self-sufficient longhorns were the best breed for the open, unfenced ranges. In a land without transportation they actually took themselves to market. But the tough longhorns couldn't match newer breeds in beef production. Calves from Hereford, Shorthorn and Angus bulls and from thrifty longhorn dams grew faster. They produced more and better meat from less feed. Blockier and of heavier frame, they yielded more of the more popular meat cuts. They were better money makers for farmers and ranchers. Such results encouraged selection of better foundation stock.

Each improvement in meat production has been met by increased demand for popular cuts on America's dinner tables. Livestock producers and meat packers have worked hand-in-hand to encourage greater demand for meat. But Swift & Company plays no favorites among breeds of beef producing animals. We do not make markets... we find them. In our buying of livestock we transmit to producers the knowledge of the kinds of meat that are preferred in various sections of the country.

The price producers receive for their livestock is governed by what the packer can get for the meat and by-products.

Will It Pay Me to Specialize?

by M. T. Buchanan
State College of Washington

M. T. Buchanan

"Should I specialize in some crop or enterprise, or should I diversify my operations?" Many farmers and ranchers have to find the answer to this question. For instance, in the state of Washington there are 63 distinct types of farming in this one state alone. And they should consider that the types of products which come from farms in different areas of the United States are not accidental. They are caused by the interaction of physical and economic factors. The operation of these two forces has been hastened by mechanization, development of better crop varieties, breeds and disease-resistant strains.

Specialization, of course, leads to increased efficiency in the use of labor, equipment, capital and buildings. Marketing is an easier task and more time is available for maintenance of equipment and for planning new and better methods. A great deal of the increase in production of agricultural products has resulted from specialization. Farms have increased in size. Proportionately, the amount of labor needed has decreased, allowing more labor for use in other ways.

Specialize or diversify? There's plenty of "real life" evidence to help you in reaching a decision. Go visiting. See how your neighbor does it. It's your problem and even if you decide to make no changes from your present plan, you'll get a lot of ideas on how you can do your work better.

OUR CITY COUSIN

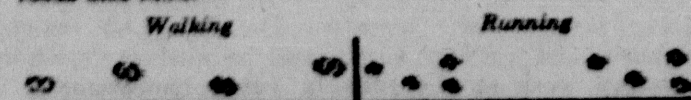

Hey, you! What makes you think soft corn is soft?

Track Down the Facts

These are the tracks of the coyote. They look like dog tracks, but there are differences which the expert tracker can see. In the livestock business, too, sometimes things are not as they seem to be. For example, some people say we waste our grain by feeding it to animals. Instead, they think we should eat the grain ourselves. They do not realize that the millions of head of cattle and lambs that are marketed every year are little more than grass turned into meat. It is true that many of these animals are fed a certain amount of grain and other concentrates to turn them into finished meat animals. However, if it were not for cattle and lambs, 779,000,000 acres of land in the United States would produce little, if any, food for humans. To put it another way, about 51% of the total land of our nation consists of grazing land which cannot be used for producing other feeds and food.

What the New National Guard means to you...

A Message from the President of the United States

WE owe our existence as a nation to the tradition of service of our citizens. It was an army of citizen soldiers which George Washington led to victory in the American Revolution. At the end of that war, the first Congress asked General Washington to give his views on what the military policy of the new nation should be. This was his answer:

"...every citizen who enjoys the protection of a free government, owes not only a proportion of his property but even of his personal services to the defense of it."

Today the new National Guard gives every man an opportunity to give that personal service to his country and at the same time to advance himself. In National Guard units all over the country thousands of veterans and other ambitious young men are finding the opportunity to study and learn the things that help them advance in their civilian jobs. They are finding the fellowship that is part and parcel of America. They are participating in a sports and recreation program that keeps them fit. And they are receiving the training that helps keep America strong.

Because of the National Guard's importance to our national defense I have proclaimed September 16th as National Guard Day and have directed that a nationwide recruiting campaign be conducted to fill its ranks.

WATT NUMBER

... IS THE ANSWER TO BETTER LIGHT IN YOUR HOME

THERE'S A SIZE FOR EVERY NEED

Your safety sign... that eyes have the full protection of proper light... is the watt number imprinted on every lamp bulb! Eyestrain can develop even from ordinary household tasks, if lighting is not adequate. Fill every light fixture and lamp with correct sight-saving sizes. Good light for easy seeing requires 150-watt lamp bulbs for study and reading lamps and 300-watt bulbs for floor lamps.

TP&L low-cost electricity gives your family the full benefit of plentiful light... for only a few cents a day! The added cost of electricity for using a 150-watt bulb instead of a 60-watt bulb is less than a penny for THREE HOURS... and the purchase cost of the 150-watt bulb is only 10 cents more. You owe it to your eyes to get proper lighting, now!

Congressman Tells About Plight of People In the Low Countries of Holland and Belgium; Belgium Has Free Economy and In Better Shape

Brussels, Belgium
September 20, 1947

Dear friends:

Our Committee has spent the past several days in the "Low Countries" Belgium and The Netherlands. They were both occupied by the Germans and both suffered severely from the war, but The Netherlands suffered far greater damage. Both countries held rich colonial empires before the war, Belgium in Africa and the Dutch in the East Indies. There has been no disruption of the Belgian colonial administration, but the Dutch colonies were occupied by the Japanese who in turn armed the natives at the end of the war. The future of the Dutch colonial empire is still a matter of speculation and debate. It is not, therefore, surprising to find that Belgium is at the moment enjoying a much greater degree of prosperity than The Netherlands.

Another factor which some claim to be the result of her better economic condition and which others claim is the cause of her prosperity is the Belgian free economy. There is less planning and control in Belgium than in any country we have visited. As soon as the war was over Belgium began to produce goods and to sell them at home and abroad. She allowed her people to buy anything they could. She made no effort to direct the expenditures of the individual. As a result, the Belgian working man could buy the things he wanted with his wages. He had a real incentive to work, and on the whole he has worked hard and has produced well.

Prices are high, but Belgium has full employment and in most lines is producing as much or more than before the war. However, her financiers recognize that they are on exceedingly thin ice inasmuch as the volume of goods produced and sold at home do not create any foreign exchange, particularly dollars, with which to pay for the food that Belgium must import. We were told by the Minister of Agriculture that if two wheat boats from the United States did not come through, Belgium would be out of flour. She has no reserve and she has practically no dollars with which to buy more. She needs to export goods in order to pay for the food she must have. She cannot export more without reducing home consumption and that can only be accomplished by price control and rationing.

The Netherlands, on the other hand, has continued all wartime controls on goods and prices. They have tried to increase their exports and in order to do so they have made it impossible for their own people to buy more than the basic necessities of life. They have kept prices down but the result has been that many Dutch workmen have felt that there is no use of working any more hours than it took to get enough money to buy the food allowed them under the ration program. Industrial production is not up to pre-war and they, therefore, do not have the goods they need to sell abroad in order to earn dollars to buy food and feed. In addition, the Dutch have been forced to spend a large part of their efforts on repairing the damage the Germans did. At the very beginning of the war the Germans bombed the heart of Rotterdam and utterly destroyed a large part of the city. This was done in spite of the fact that there were no military installations there. There has been more substantial and permanent reconstruction here than anywhere I have been. The Germans demolished hundreds of blocks of The Hague to clear the land for defenses. This and other areas have been only partly rebuilt but it is a great strain on the resources of the country.

The greatest war damage resulted from the cruel and deliberate destruction of the dykes that hold the sea off large areas. Over hundreds of years the Dutch have beat back the sea and have erected great dykes to protect areas below sea level. They have pumped all rain and surplus water out generally by the use of great wooden windmills. These reclaimed areas included some of the finest agricultural lands in the country. As the Germans retreated at the end of the war they blew out many of these dykes and flooded thousands of acres with sea water. The Dutch have rebuilt the dykes and have pumped most of the water out, but much of the land was so poisoned by salt water that it will be years before it becomes productive again. This has added to both the food shortage and the difficulty of devoting all their energies to producing goods for export.

Farming in The Netherlands is carried on in a very intense manner. They grow great quantities of vegetables, potatoes, cabbage and sugarbeets, but very little cereals. They grow a large part of the world's bulbs. The bulb business is all in a very small area of very poor sandy soil, but it involves one community that brings in needed dollars. They also have a very large nursery stock business centered in another part of the country. Very little of this nursery stock comes into the United States because of our plant quarantine restrictions. Before the war much of it went to Germany. Now there is no market. Dairy products constitute the largest single agricultural product. They use a large cow rather similar to a Holstein. They have wonderful pastures and even in spite of the prolonged drouth we saw pastures running several head per acre. Right now their grass is all over-pastured and the stock is beginning to show it. They have no feed. They normally import much of their feed from the United States. They are going to have to materially reduce their herds, which will have tragic results for years to come. Most of their milk goes into butter and cheese, and contrary to the practice of most other European countries, they put very little into barns. In fact, the cows are milked in the open in the pastures.

Your friend,
W. R. POAGE, Congressman
11th Texas District.

MICHAEL H. FLEMING, 92, DIES IN EL PASO

Michael Holland Fleming, former Cincinatti and highly esteemed by all who knew him died at 11:10 last night at the home of his son Charles H. Fleming in El Paso, where he had resided for the past several years.

He was born in New York City, October 12, 1854, and would have been 92 years of age next month.

Word of Mr. Fleming's death was received here this morning by Connie Davis, who stated the body would arrive in El Paso Saturday morning and that funeral services would be held at Thomas funeral chapel at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, with burial in Oakwood cemetery beside his wife and two children, who died many years ago.

Father John Donnelly of Ranger will be the officiating minister, deceased having been a conscientious, life-long member of the Catholic church.

Mike Fleming, as he was familiarly known to his many Cisco friends, came to Texas in 1886, first locating at Milano, Milam county, where he began work as a section hand on the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe railroad. He was soon promoted to roadmaster and remained with the Santa Fe and International & Great Northern at Milano until he was transferred to Cisco as section foreman for the Texas & Pacific in April, 1900. He continued in that connection until 1915, and made Cisco his home continuously until he moved to El Paso to be with his son and family.

He led a more or less retired life after leaving the railroad, but was always a progressive citizen and held the office of city commissioner and other positions of public trust with honor to the city and credit to himself until failing eyesight forced him into complete retirement.

Deceased was united in marriage to Miss Maggie Molyneux on Dec. 24, 1874, in the city of Albany, N. Y. Four children were born to them, two of whom are living—Charles and Francis Fleming of El Paso. There are also two grandchildren, Miss Maggie Fleming and Charles Fleming Jr., both of El Paso.—Cisco Daily Press.

We don't like to keep ANYBODY waiting for telephone service

In the last two years we have installed 1,500 new telephones a day in the Southwest—more than 1,100,000 telephones in all. But many people are still waiting for service.

As fast as we take names from the top of the list, new ones are added at the bottom. About 45,000 more people apply every month. It's the greatest telephone demand in history.

We've started 85 new buildings or building additions since V-J Day. We've spent $135,000,000, and we're going to spend another $265,000,000 to extend and improve service.

We've ordered switchboards by the ton and wire and cable by the thousands of miles. We're getting new equipment and putting it in faster than ever before. It's a tremendous job and we're impatient to get it done. For we don't like to keep anybody waiting for telephone service.

OLD JOBS DUE THEM UNDER DRAFT LAWS

How many Texas veterans are entitled by law to get their old jobs back but can not? No one knows. It is an unknown problem.

In a formal ceremony Wednesday Governor Beauford Jester was named Chief Reemployment Rights Committeeman as the first step in rebirth of the program to assist an unknown number of Texas veterans in obtaining rights guaranteed under the only phase of the Selective Service Act continued after last March 31. Governor Jester was presented a warrant of appointment by E. R. Speer, field representative for Texas and Louisiana for the Veterans Reemployment Rights Division of the U. S. Department of Labor.

Speer praised the Governor for lending his name to the movement to help veterans return to their rightful place in our economy. The VRRD Field Representative said he felt sure that Texas veterans and Texas employers would work out their reemployment problems under the planned program of arbitration by volunteer reemployment committeemen throughout Texas.

Since August 1, Speer has been working to set up a volunteer organization to take up where the draft board reemployment committeemen left off. The 80th Congress kept alive the reemployment rights provisions of the old Selective Service Act and placed administration in the hands of the U. S. Department of Labor.

At present the VRRD field representative has 241 contested reemployment rights cases, and there are 30 more now in the hands of the U. S. District Attorney at Dallas. Most of the 241 came directly to Speer's office from the Dallas area. An unknown number of veterans throughout Texas either have rights they do not know about or do not know how to exercise their rights, Speer said.

You hear and read a lot these days about this troubled world. Some believe that the end is near. Some labor-management strife continues in the news; some prices, judged by pre-war levels, are high; and it must be true that we have a fifth column actively at work to change our form of government. The foreign situation is exasperating. From one point of view, things generally are in a state of confusion, and to some, disaster looms ahead.

But here in Texas and Oklahoma, where Lone Star furnishes gas service to homes and industry, most folks are living well, having babies, going to church, improving their homes, educating their children, and turning in a good day's work for a good day's pay. These people have faith in themselves, in their country, and in their communities. They are willing to work. They know that in America a man can still be what he wants to be.

LOAN A. SMITH—

serving as chairman in 1933, 1934, 1939 and 1940.

The former state official still maintained his residence in Austin and was reported to have gone to Kansas to attend a board of directors meeting of the Standard Life Association. Relatives said they were told he suffered a heart attack at a banquet Monday night and died early Tuesday.

Smith is survived by his wife, one sister, Mrs. Fred Stanton of Longview; 10 children, Langston, Lon, Jr., and Gordon Smith, all of Austin; Jane Smith of Wichita, Kan.; Frank Smith of Salina, Kan.; Mrs. C. G. McCarty of Yoakum; Mrs. Carl Schweers of San Antonio; Mrs. J. W. Sewell, Mrs. J. L. Beard and Mrs. Joe Jobe, all of Dallas.

Smith had been honored more generally by the voters of Texas than, perhaps, any other man who has offered for state office. Records reveal that he was the first Texan to receive a majority of votes in as many as 253 of the 254 counties in the state.

"I am still trying to figure out how I lost that county," Smith commented to a group of supporters from over the state, who gathered in Austin to offer their services in his campaign.

BAND ROBBERY—

who came to his office.

In the meantime, Muldrow had untied himself from the fence and had contacted both Constable Bill Beckworth and City Marshal J. B. Curtis. The three men, with Roper, went to the bank, but the robbers had already gone. Mrs. Robertson said a few minutes before the officers entered the bank she heard a car speed away toward Waco.

Pamplin said Monday morning that investigating officers had uncovered few clues. Jack Mercer, fingerprint expert from the Department of Public Safety in Austin, Rangers Joe Thompson of Waco and J. C. Paulk of Temple were among investigators along with highway patrolmen from Temple, Hearne and Taylor.

Mrs. Robertson described one of the robbers, the only one she could see dimly in the bank, as being a large man and wearing a light shirt.

Only a week had elapsed since the Bruce Campbell Lumber Co.'s office building here was broken into. Thieves last Monday night took over $30 in small change and a high-powered hunting rifle after prying open the front door with a pinch bar.

Sheriff Brady Pamplin and Deputy Woodrow Powers investigated the robbery, but could find no clues. The money was taken from an unlocked safe, and papers were left scattered over the floor. The gun belonged to L. L. Dorsett, manager of the lumber yard.—Waco Times-Herald.

the best high school center and linebacker ever to play in these parts.

That year Tom Bishop, now captain of the TCU team and a blocking back was the power in the backfield. Gale Tolliver was his quarterback and coming along were those two greats of all time, Baker and Wayne Arnold.

Killeen had a great Class A high team in 1944 and again in 1945 and should have won the district. The Kangaroos lost to the heavier Taylor team both years.

The 1947 Kangaroo team is much lighter than will be good for them when they play Cameron, but it should be remembered that there are 7 three lettermen in the Killeen line this fall. That means stiff line play and the breaks may decide the game. Cameron of course is favored and should win.

Killeen was outplayed by Belton but was smart enough to cash in on breaks and come out 6 to 0 and the same thing was true in the game with Georgetown. The Cameron winnings have been more impressive than Killeen this year.

"Beginning with 1941 Cameron lost to Killeen five years in a row, the worst defeat being in 1945 when Cameron was whipped 38 to 0. In 1944 Cameron lost to Killeen 35 to 0. So stout has been the Killeen line in 8 years that Cameron failed to score in 4 games out of 8. On the other hand Killeen has not failed to score on Cameron except in the 1939 game.

In the 8 games the two teams have played Killeen has scored a total of 125 points against Cameron while the Yoemen have scored 65 points against Killeen.

He pointed out that in the flood control act of July 24, 1946, congress directed that "of the conservation storage capacity, not to exceed 45,000 acre feet shall be available for irrigation purposes in the Leon, Lampasas and Little river valleys.

Colonel Hutchings said that should the site near Comanche be found feasible, there might be some small reduction in the size of the Belton dam, but that "in the sum total there would be greater benefit to a greater number of inhabitants of the Leon, Little and Brazos valleys."

Army engineers' plans for the Miller Springs dam call for a concrete gravity-type dam including a spillway section, and nearly two miles of earth embankment.

"This project," he said, "will afford substantial flood protection to the valleys of the Leon and Little rivers and somewhat less substantial protection to the valley of the main stem of the Brazos river downstream from the confluence of the Little river."

If the proposed projects on the Little river system (Little river, Lampasas and Leon rivers) are completed, 74 per cent of the watershed area would be controlled against floods, the engineer said.—Temple Telegram.

Morocco Sojourns Of Composer Is Screen Romance

Inspired by the immortal and colorful youth of Nicholas Rimsky-Korsakoff, Universal-International's elaborate romance, "Song of Scheherazade," opens Thursday at the Cameron Theatre. The tuneful extravaganza, photographed in Technicolor against flaming backgrounds of Mediterranean splendor, dramatizes an exciting, heart-stirring episode in the swashbuckling, carefree early life of the great Russian composer.

Yvonne De Carlo, Brian Donlevy and Jean Pierre Aumont are costarred in the picturesque film.

Locale of the story is Spanish Morocco in 1865. The intriguing events of the composer's enchantment take place when a Russian naval ship is becalmed, with its crew of adventure-seeking midshipmen, during a heat wave.

Miss De Carlo appears as a vivacious Spanish dancer, and the inspiration for visiting Midshipman Rimsky-Korsakoff.

Donlevy appears as the tough, woman-hating captain of the training ship, and Oumont is Rimsky-Korsakoff.

"Song of India" and "Hymn to the Sun" are sung by Charles Kullman, Metropolitan Opera star, in his screen debut. Heard for the first time with words are "Frangendo," sung by Kullman, and "Gypsy Song," sung by Milio Sheron.

The able supporting cast includes Eve Arden, portraying Miss De Carlo's mother; Philip Reed as a Russian prince; John Qualen, George Dolenz, Richard Lane, William Brooks, Elena Verdugo, Leonard East and Terry Kilburn.

Shirley Temple and Cary Grant and Myrna Loy Too!

With Cary Grant, Myrna Loy and Shirley Temple in the stellar roles, Dore Schary's production for RKO Radio, "The Bachelor and the Bobby-Soxer," is offered as a delightful romantic comedy of an artist who becomes involved in romantic complications with a woman jurist and her bobby-soxer sister.

The younger girl becomes infatuated with the artist in a big way when he delivers a lecture at her high school, and decides to bring herself to his attention by going to his apartment, where she falls asleep. The artist finds her there at two a. m., and is just about to take her home when the judge bounces in on the trail of her kid sister, and completely mis-understands the situation.

She is all for sending the artist to the penitentiary, but the court psychiatrist points out that the girl's infatuation can be easily cured if she sees enough of the older man. So the artist, to avoid prosecution, is forced to take the bobby-soxer to all sorts of student functions. While this makes the girl's boy-friend jealous, it also results in the artist becoming intrigued with the pretty judge, and he ensuing complications keep the romantic pot boiling merrily.

Grant has one of his most sparkling roles as the hapless artist, and Miss Loy portrays a very human judge, with Shirley ideally cast as the enthusiastic teen-ager. Rudy Vallee is in the cast as an assistant district attorney and an admirer of the judge, Ray Collins and Harry Davenport are a pair of elderly uncles. Johnny Sands is Shirley's schoolboy pal. Don Beddoe, Lillian Randolph, Veda Ann Borg, Ran Tobin and Charles Halton have other roles.

Irving Reis directed the offering, and Sidney Cheldron wrote the original story and screenplay.

Night Watchman Sure Argument Saved His Life At Rosebud

In the estimation of Nightwatchman, Arnold Muldrow the argument between himself and two armed bank robbers early Monday morning in Rosebud over whether or not he should be killed was the most important debate of his life.

The two men who intended to burglarize the Planters National Bank at 2 a. m. Monday—had slugged Mr. Muldrow, taken his gun, and were preparing to truss him up like a bag of oats when one advanced the proposition that if the nightwatchman were killed, there would be no chance for him to identify them.

This was the start of the argument reported yesterday by Mr. Muldrow over the telephone to have been the most important debate he had ever participated in.

"No need to kill me," said Muldrow. "Go ahead and rob anything you please." He explained yesterday that he used this approach since they had already taken his gun and he figured he might as well play along with them.

As the conversation between the two bandits went from bad to worse for the nightwatchman, he said in he most brotherly tone he could manage, "That chair'll be waiting for you if you do."

Mr. Muldrow stated yesterday that he figured that was his clincher. After he said it, the bandits decided to keep murder off their hands and were content to tape Muldrow's eyes and amounting to more than $500.00. It is estimated that when the guard Battalion is recruited here to full strength the annual pay roll will be around $20,000.

carry him behind the nightwatchman's office to a barn where he was propped up and tied hands and feet.

According to Mr. Muldrow's conversation yesterday, it took him only about five minutes to worm his way out of his bindings and make a dash for the Rosebud constable's house.

Here he roused Bill Beckworth and telephoned City Marshal J. B. Curtis. After about 20 minutes, the trio was headed downtown.—Temple Telegram.

Cameron Gobs Lagging In Contributions to Battleship Texas Fund

Contributions were lagging badly on the Battleship Texas Fund with only three made so far.

Rev. Lee Lemons of the Methodist Church, The Cameron Rotary Club and J. B. White were listed as contributors. The Rotary Club started the fund with $25.00.

Navy men in Cameron will want to have a small share in this fund and contributions may be left at Texas Power & Light Company, The Cameron Theatre and Cameron Herald. "Come on you 'Gobs' and 'Come on Texas."

PLANTERS NATIONAL AT ROSEBUD ENTERED TODAY

(From the Daily)

Two would be bank robbers entered the Planters National Bank in Rosebud at 2 a. m. Monday but failed in their efforts to rob the bank.

Red Muldrow, night watchman was slugged and tied up in his office a short distance from the bank but managed to spread an alarm a short time later and the bank robbers were frightened away.

According to information to The Daily Herald the robbers, after slugging Muldrow entered the bank and knocked the knob from the vault door and attempted to destroy the mechanism to get into the vault but failed. The combination mechanism was damaged and the bank had not been opened for business up to 10 a. m. because the vault could not be opened.

According to Muldrow who suffered minor injuries, there were two men, one a large man and the other a small man. The large man was wearing a mask. They escaped in an automobile.

After the alarm was given citizens began to make their way to the bank and the men were no doubt frightened and made their escape.

Texas State Police made their appearance here early this morning on their way to Rosebud to investigate the attempted robbery.

A telephone operator whose name is being withheld, saw the lights in the bank being turned off and on and deciding that something must be wrong, turned out the lights in the telephone office and gave the alarm.

Citizens responded quickly and the would be robbers, frightened by approaching noises, hastily got out of the bank and made their escape.

Bill Marek and F. A. Marek attended the funeral of a relative in Bellville last Monday.

BETTER STREET LAMPS TO BE UP DECEMBER 15

Cameron will soon have an improved street lighting system in the mercantile area and some of the new equipment has arrived.

A map showing the location of the new lights was being checked Friday by Henry Siebman, manager of the Texas Power & Light Company, with helpers and construction will soon begin.

It was said that the new lights would be installed by December 15. The city will not have a white way nor will it have anything like a modern system but the street lighting will be improved greatly.

Of prime importance was the removal of a number of lighting poles in the business area. While larger polls were installed there are fewer of them.

The new light fixtures will cost the city more to operate. The new lights are about 2 feet high and are to swing from poles as the present lights are hung but more uniform in height and the arms will be 6 feet in length.

Since the city has no money to pave streets and would not revamp the budget to provide for bonding there will be no modern system of lighting with underground installation as was contemplated here.

WORRIED?

Business is still good

The time will come — must come when merchandising adopts the familiar pattern of not only competitive engagement but asking for business as well.

Business reached its majority in America on this pattern. If we believe in free enterprise and a free economy, we must recognize that business must be free, competitive and open.

It is well to remember that business goes where it is invited and stays where it is well treated.

ADVERTISING is the greatest factor in business success. Never has had a substitute and never will.

Plan it well and measure your campaigns by the rule of consistency. Are you worried? Is business good or could it be much better?

PRESIDENT INDICATES HE CONSIDERS MOVE

President Truman at a press conference in Washington Thursday morning said that he is considering calling a special session of Congress to deal with Europe's economic situation.

The President did not elaborate beyond the statement that there is still a possibility that the Congress will be convened.

The statement is first such direct approach the President has made to an answer to the question of a special session. When the matter was first mentioned by Secretary of State George C. Marshall, the President indicated that relief for Europe might be had through already existing agencies of the government. Since that time the situation has worsened. Leaders of both political parties are divided on the question of a special session and both parties have strong advocates of a special session.

If the Congress is convened there were possibilities that the body might not only provide whatever aid may be needed to stabilize the European situation but might take other measures to clarify the diplomatic situation which has worsened and seemed destined to involve the United States and Russia in War.

Rotarians Get Check Up On How Well They Read Their Magazine

Rotarian Lee Lemons pulled a fast one on club members Wednesday with a quiz on how well the Rotarians read their magazine.

In spotlighting the national magazine which he says is one of the greatest publications in the world, he conducted a test with a series of 13 questions that left the members gasping but it was one of the best programs the club has had in a long time.

He departmentized the October issue and asked questions which he had prepared with a memographed sheet and got a pledge that the members would brush up on their magazine more in the future.

Lemons is pastor of First Methodist church and has been a Rotarian for years.

Rice Coach Scores Football Gambling

HOUSTON, Oct. 16—Gambling on football was scored by Coach Jess Neely in a rousing applauded talk today before the Quarterbacks club's weekly luncheon.

"Football is a fine sport," the Rice coach said, "But it is a game. It should be kept one."

The Owl mentor said that he found the players themselves were good sportsmen, but not always the fan.

"Sometimes in the heat of battle" he went on, "you see opposing players get sore at each other and maybe want to take a punch. But after the game they generally shake hands like the sportsmen they are and forget it. But fans who have a bet on the game often want to take it out on the boys, the officials, or anybody else they can."

Neely said "we have a great game in football. But many such incidents as pop bottle throwing and things like that will go far toward destroying it."

CHRISTMAS PARTY FOR CHILDREN ANNOUNCED

Santa Claus will parade in Cameron sometime during December, it has been disclosed by the Chamber of Commerce.

The date and program to be staged have not been announced but will be forthcoming soon. The Santa Claus Parade and party for children had to be abandoned during the war years. Revival of this popular holiday event will be pleasing to the children.

If the program follows the usual lines there will be free gifts for all the children and a short program. The Christmas tree will be set up on the court house lawn and street lighting may be resumed also.

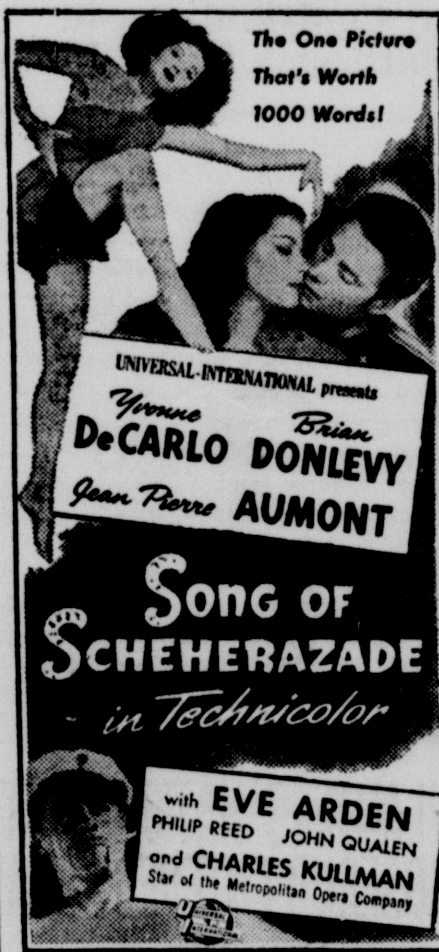

Merchants of the city will give wholehearted co-operation to the event because the appearance of Santa Claus is not only a big event for the children but is a merchandising stimulant.

Price Of Newsprint To Be Boosted

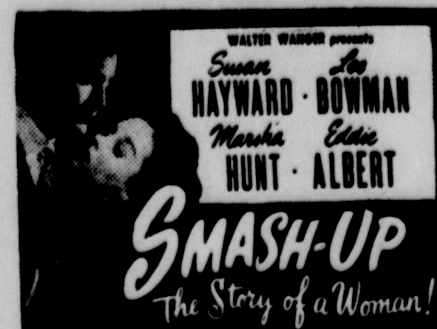

All United States newspaper publishers were advised this past week that the price of newsprint on which the weekly and daily papers throughout the country are printed will go up soon.

An almost certain rise in price over the $90 a ton now paid for Canadian newsprint is being discussed.

The chairman of the board of the Mead Corp. of Dayton, Ohio, a large American paper manufacturer, has predicted a price boost and stated "today's price is not a fair price in my judgment . . . the publishers, of course, will have to pay more. There is no way to avoid it."

TRUCKS AND JEEPS IN FIRST CONSIGNMENTS

Battery C, 239th Field Artillery Battalion, received the first of its vehicles Wednesday when a 2 1-2 ton truck and a jeep were delivered from TNG headquarters, Camp Mabry, in Austin. Acting supply sergeant Mainrod Mraz made a trip down there to pick up the equipment.

The local National Guard unit is authorized a total of 17 vehicles. Captain Rudolph Michalka, Commanding Officer, said that the others probably will be received in the near future.

Capt. Michalka also stated that the battery's part in the National Guard's "Operation 88,888" recruiting drive is making satisfactory progress. The enlistment papers for several more men are being prepared, and it is hoped that they can be sworn in during the next drill period at the armory.

In connection with the recruiting drive, Colonel Harrison C. Browne of San Antonio, the Central Texas recruiting supervisor, visited Cameron recently and discussed enlistment problems with the battery's officers. Col. Browne indicated that he was well pleased with the progress that the campaign was making over the area and with the results that Battery C is getting here. He also particularly expressed appreciation for the high degree of co-operation that the local newspapers and other organizations have extended the National Guard.

The deep lines of suffering on a mother's face
